GOV. ED JACKSON IS INDICTED

NAVY ACTS TO HALT SEA HOPS BY LAND PLANES

Cancels Leaves of Fonck's Aids.

BULLETIN.
HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Canadian vessels were asked tonight by government radio stations to assist in the search for the monoplane Old Glory, missing on a flight from Old Orchard, Me., to Rome. At the request of the United States embassy, the naval department at Ottawa ordered the search. The message it broadcast called attention to reports that the monoplane had been sighted 400 miles east-northeast of St. John's. This was before the sent out a S O S Wednesday morning.

[Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—(AP)—State department officials said tonight that they had received no word of the sighting of the monoplane Old Glory of St. John's, and apparently some mistake had been made in press dispatches from Ottawa stating that the American embassy there was receiving information from Washington to this effect.]

BULLETIN.
ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Sept. 10.—(AP)—No verification is obtainable from any source here of the rumor that the Old Glory has been sighted at sea. Sometime traversing the area from which the airplane sent its S O S call report no sign of the plane. The shipmate Kyle, which left here Friday to search for the plane, has not yet reported.

"Sky News" of the Day

Search for five flyers lost on trans Atlantic plane Old Glory and Sir John Carling proves futile.

Flight of Royal Windsor from Harlow, Essex, N. F., to England, and return flight to America called off.

Americans flying around world reach Hongkong after being out of touch with world for 33 hours, and then hop for Shanghai.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—(Special)—Two official moves, intended to discourage a foolhardy transatlantic flight, were made by the navy department today. Leaves of absence granted Lieut. L. W. Curtin and Ensign E. V. Edwards to accompany Capt. Ross Fonck in his trans-Atlantic flight were revoked and a plea for the assignment of cruisers along the route of the proposed flight of the Pride of Detroit from Tokyo to Honolulu was refused. It was announced that in the future naval officers will not be permitted to engage in ocean flights in land planes.

Lieut. Curtin was associated with Capt. Fonck about a year ago as a member of the crew of the Sikorsky land plane which crashed and killed two members of the crew as it was taking off in an attempted New York-Hawaii flight. When Capt. Fonck undertook to build a second plane a few months ago, Lieut. Curtin was again given leave, as was Ensign Edwards, who was selected by Capt. Fonck to act as radio officer of the expedition.

Calla Flights Too Hazardous.
"The high percentage of casualties and actual loss of life that these various expeditions now show," declared Acting Secretary of the Navy T. D. Robinson, "has led the navy department to the conclusion that such flights in land planes are too hazardous to warrant their continuance at this time, and it has, therefore, become a necessity for the department to withhold approval for any navy personnel to engage in trans-oceanic expeditions in land planes similar to those that have been planned in the past."

The department now feels that life of the inevitable loss of life that would result when a land plane, engaged on a trans-oceanic flight, is forced to land in the sea, it must withhold authority for any naval personnel to engage in flights of this nature, and has therefore taken action to revoke the leave granted to Lieut. L. W. Curtin and Ensign E. V. Edwards.

In a letter to Capt. Fonck Mr. Robinson declared: "The department feels that, while trans-Atlantic flights have been accomplished in land planes, the hazards involved are so great that when failure occurs, disaster inevitably follows."

IDENTIFY "CAT" BANDIT AS SON OF OLD FAMILY

Confesses Use of Assumed Name.

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

His deepest secret discovered, the last vestige of his bravado gone, "The Cat" bandit broke down last night in his cell at the Summerdale station and sobbed as he admitted to police that he is not William Edward Mitchell, as he had claimed, but William Edd Baker, member of a formerly wealthy southern family.

"For God's sake," he pleaded with detectives from the bureau, whose energy and activity had unmasked his identity, "whatever you do don't let my wife know the truth. I married her under the name of Mitchell."

Baker and the golden haired girl he seems to idolize were wed, he told Capt. Martin O'Malley, in New Orleans five years ago. An effort was being made last night to discover whether such a marriage would be legal in Louisiana, as it is in Illinois, or whether the assumed name would automatically dissolve the marriage tie.

Trace Girl's Ancestry.
The girl, detective asserted, is a direct descendant of William Penn. Her father was a Dr. Mohr of St. Louis and after his death her mother married again and moved to California with her second husband, who is said to be an opera singer of some prominence.

Baker's parents are at present living in Cleveland, and until last night, they said, had not heard from their son since he went to war. His father, C. B. Baker, was a whiskey distiller in Kentucky years ago, was widely known as "Clip" Baker, and was said to have amassed a large fortune, which he has lost.

The exposé of "The Cat" was brought about by a college friend of the bandit, who was educated at Centre college, Kentucky. Detectives discovered that this friend had been receiving mail from the parents of Baker, to pass on to him at Price's restaurant, 232 South Wells street, where he had been working. It was addressed to "William Edd Mitchell."

When he went to the restaurant to deliver another of the missives he was questioned and revealed the "Cat's" actual identity. The letter read: "Will Edd—Dear Sir: I thought I would write you a few lines to let you know that we are still living in Cleveland. We would like to hear from you. Hal and I have written to you and you have not answered either. What is the matter? Write and let me know. Yours truly, C. B. Baker."

Speaking last night on the long distance telephone from Cleveland, Baker's father at first denied that he knew his son was in Chicago, then admitted authorship of the note. He expressed considerable doubt that the bandit was his son and asked that his picture be forwarded for identification.

Father Coming to Chicago.
On learning that the family friend to whom he had directed the letter had identified "The Cat," the father conceded that there could be no mistake and said he would take an early train to Chicago and give his son every assistance.

This information was conveyed to Baker, alias Mitchell, at the station. He was weeping now.

"My father," he moaned, "I haven't seen him in years. And now he'll see me in jail. I'll be an old, gray-haired man if I ever get out. Gee, why did I ever go out that night—it was to be my last job. I swear—my last job."

He used the name Mitchell, he said last night, to conceal his whereabouts from his family. Baker the older confessed surprise last night at learning that his son was married.

Hour after hour during the day scores of men and women crowded the Summerdale station where an extensive exhibit of the loot found in Baker's apartment was on display. Item after item was identified, and as the piles dwindled the stack of complaints on Capt. O'Malley's desk grew apace. Even with the number of articles already identified, those remaining comprise a stock sufficient to equip a small store.

Assistant State's Attorney Irving Goldstein and Samuel Hoffman questioned Baker at length yesterday, then quizzed his wife separately, to check their statements against each other. Last night they announced themselves prepared to go before the grand jury today with their evidence, and said they expected indictments by tonight.

GUNMEN AND TWO FOOD HANDLERS EXCHANGE WARES

When two bandits walked in and held up Mrs. Alice McKenney, owner of a delicatessen at 1148 Sunnydale avenue, and a half dozen customers, taking $46 from the cash register, Mrs. McKenney, hurled a can of tomatoes at them as the bandits backed out of the place. They returned a single bullet which wrecked a crate of fresh country eggs.

A short time later a man walked into the store of Mrs. Alice McKenney, where her nephew Thomas Murray, 15, was clerking and ordered a bottle of milk. When Murray turned from the ice box he found himself looking into the barrel of a revolver. It was too much for Murray when the bandit, as he was leaving with $25 he had taken from the register, said pleasantly, "Have that bottle of milk on me" and Murray hurried it at him getting two shots at himself in return.

Gambles Away $1,000,000; Kills Himself

"He was at the end of his rope—broke down and out," friends said last night of Harry J. Callan, de luxe bootlegger who was found dead late in the day in his room at the Bismarck hotel. "He made a million peddling booze and then ran through it all. The horses and the booze got him." To Callan's pockets police found just one dollar and one cent; and there was nothing in his effects to indicate that he had another penny in the world.

Police were convinced that Callan ended his life. His body, unclothed, lay on a bed, covered with a sheet. On a nearby dresser stood a tin containing a deadly poison. Scattered all about the room were innumerable checks showing he had made bets on the horse and dog races and most of them were for entries that simply "also ran."

Ordered Out of Hotel.

The body was discovered at 3:15 p. m. by Charles H. McGarrity, assistant manager of the hotel, who went to the room accompanied by another employee of the house. Mr. McGarrity later said that at noon yesterday he had ordered Callan, who had been a guest at the hotel since last June, to pack up and leave.

"I had to tell him to go," the assistant manager said. "He was constantly heckling with the employees here and he appeared always to be intoxicated or highly nervous."

Police and attaches of the coroner's office made a careful search of the room seeking for a suicide motive and for some trace of Callan's relatives. They found nothing except an army discharge indicating Callan's whole name was Callahan, was 46 years old and that he was born in San Francisco.

Hunt in Vals for Money.

Later police took three large suitcases and three trunks belonging to Callan to the Central station and searched the contents thoroughly. But they found nothing, not a scrap of paper or letter giving any clue to his relatives, not any bank books or safety deposit box keys to indicate he had any money.

Callan for a long time was known as a purveyor of a fine grade of pre-destined liquor to Chicago's wealthier families.

Shot in Street Fight.

In September, 1924, he was shot and seriously wounded in a street fight by Leon Tarr of New York, in what the police said was a bootleggers' war. In May, 1926, he was arrested when Miss Mary Hood, 36, died while in his apartment at the Congress hotel, but he was exonerated.

SEIZE MAJOR FOR GUNPLAY AT EVANSTON COP

Maj. Raymond A. Eddy, formerly an instructor in the Evanston Township High school, was arrested by the Evanston police on charges of threatening Desk Sergeant Bernard Hanke with a pistol last night.

According to the police Eddy recently received a summons to appear for non-payment of a bill presented by D. P. McEnery, owner of a grocery at 823 Chicago avenue, Evanston. The police said the major last night entered the police station, berating Hanke.

GARY BLACK HAND LEADER SUSPECT IS SHOT TO DEATH

Sam Bianco, 45, alleged bootlegger and black hand leader of Gary, Ind., was shot and killed in the business district of the town late yesterday by Erisimo Romeo of Roundout, Ill., a gardener for Cardinal J. Mundelein.

Romeo first twice at Bianco as he was walking across the street, the second bullet piercing his heart.

The slayer made no effort to evade arrest and he at once admitted he had killed Bianco. He said he did it because the latter had stolen some $1,500 belonging to Romeo's older brother, Mariano, 55, a resident of Gary, in order to pay the costs of fighting liquor law violations in court.

Single Share of Stock Nets Owner $94,600 in 63 Years

New York, Sept. 9.—(Special)—John E. Andrus, the so-called "stranger millionaire," a constant exponent of thrift, said today that a share of Singer Sewing Machine stock which he purchased in 1864 has netted him a date approximately $94,600. He never touched the share from the time he purchased it, but just "let it stay put."

Army Aviation Instructor Killed; Passenger Injured

Santa Monica, Cal., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Lieut. Earl Carline, an army reserve aviation instructor, was killed and his passenger, Thomas H. Corey of Los Angeles, was seriously injured today when Carline's plane went into a nose dive 150 feet above the ground.

Charged with Conspiracy to Bribe McCray

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 9.—(Special)—Gov. Ed Jackson of Indiana, George V. Coffin, Republican leader in Indianapolis and Marion county, and Robert I. Marsh, former law partner of the governor, were indicted by the Marion county grand jury this afternoon on charges of conspiracy to commit a felony and attempted bribery.

John L. Duval, mayor of Indianapolis, who is scheduled to go on trial Monday on charges of violating the corrupt practices act, was named by the grand jury in a separate indictment charging other violations of the corrupt practices statute.

The indictments mark the first charges made by the grand jury since the investigation of alleged political corruption in Indiana began eleven months ago.

Attempt to Bribe McCray Charged.

Jackson, Coffin and Marsh are charged with conspiracy in an attempt in 1923 to bribe Warren T. McCray, then governor of Indiana, in an effort to have James E. McDonald named prosecuting attorney of Marion county instead of William H. Remy, present prosecutor, whom McCray appointed. McCray recently returned from Atlanta federal prison, having been paroled after serving three years and four months of a ten year term for using the mails to defraud.

After being informed of the indictment, Gov. Jackson, with his son-in-law, Dr. Norman Beatty, drove to the sheriff's office, Marion county sheriff. The $2,500 bond set by Judge James A. Collins was furnished by a surety company.

The governor would not discuss the charge with newspaper men. The only response he made to the repeated efforts to get some word from him, was:

"I have nothing to say, except that I love you all."

Send Deputy for Duval.

Coffin later appeared at the sheriff's office with Schuyler Haas, seventh district Republican chairman, and provided bond. He said he might have a statement to make tomorrow. Marsh was the third to surrender.

When Duval did not appear at the sheriff's office, a deputy was sent to the city hall with a capias for his arrest. The deputy was instructed to read the capias to the mayor and bring him to the sheriff to swear him to the $1,000 bond which had been set. This was done.

The indictment against Jackson, Coffin and Marsh is believed to have been brought within the statute of limitations by an allegation that the three conspired to keep the alleged offense a secret until the charges were made public in Indianapolis newspapers a few weeks ago.

The indictment against Duval charges that he made numerous political promises to the Ku Klux Klan and politicians before his election.

Press Demands Explanation.

The charge that Jackson offered a bribe to McCray and assured him of immunity from conviction in state courts was first made several weeks ago. Several Indiana newspapers at that time called on Jackson either to resign or offer a satisfactory explanation of the matter. The governor, however, did not reply to the charges until last Tuesday.

He then denied the charge that he offered McCray money, but admitted that he went to see McCray in the interest of having McDonald appointed prosecutor instead of Remy.

Jackson was alleged to have made the offer to McCray when the latter was under indictment in the Marion county Criminal court following the financial collapse which wiped out McCray's fortune. It was said that Jackson offered McCray $10,000 in money and promised him that he would not be convicted in the County courts if he would appoint McDonald as prosecutor instead of Remy.

GLASS DEMANDS CONGRESS CURB RESERVE BOARD

Crissinger Denies British Influence.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—(Special)—Legislation to curb the powers of the federal reserve board was demanded today by Senator Carter Glass (Dem., Va.), in a blistering statement denouncing the board for its arbitrary action in ordering a reduction in the rediscount rate of the Chicago Federal Reserve bank.

Senator Glass, one of the authors of the federal reserve act, as chairman of the house committee on banking and currency, and who later was, while secretary of the treasury, the ex officio chairman of the federal reserve board, denounced the action in the Chicago case in unparagoned terms.

"One is justified in the inference," asserted Senator Glass, "that it is the deliberate purpose of the board as now constituted to appropriate arbitrary authority which congress never intended it should exercise, and I think congress should promptly and peremptorily curb this situation by legislation which nobody will misinterpret."

Other developments in the situation which is causing a furore in Washington as well as in financial circles throughout the country, included the following:

Disclosure that the action of the board in forcing a reduction in the Chicago rate from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent was by a vote of four to three, thus contradicting reports of a sharp division of opinion within its membership.

Indications pointing to a big rise at the quarterly meeting of the advisory council of the federal reserve board next week.

A discussion on the matter pending in the Senate by the Treasury, Mr. Mellon and Benjamin Strong, governor of the Federal Reserve bank of New York, whose influence is credited with having been an important factor in forcing general reductions in rediscount rates.

Denial by D. R. Crissinger, governor of the federal reserve board, that the action was due to the influence of Montagu Norman, head of the Bank of England, or that the lowering of rates would lead to stock speculation and inflation.

Insistence by Mr. Crissinger and other members of the board that the effect of the lower level of rates would be a favorable factor in the business situation.

An assertion by Edmund Fox, vice governor of the federal reserve board, questioning the legal authority of the board to take its action.

A prediction by Senator Borah (Rep., Idaho) that a big movement against the federal reserve system is impending.

Insists Board Is Wrong.

"While in a desperate post-war emergency I expressed the conviction that the federal reserve board was given broad powers by the federal statute in the matter of reviewing and determining rediscount rates at the various federal reserve banks, it never was and is not now my opinion that congress ever intended or that the act itself authorized the federal reserve board arbitrarily to establish a rediscount rate at a federal reserve bank," said Senator Glass.

"It was the obvious spirit of the act to confide to each federal reserve bank initial authority to establish rates, because of the bank's necessarily superior knowledge of regional conditions, and neither the spirit nor text of the act sanctions interference by the central board except in extraordinary circumstances."

Questions Board's Action.

"If the rediscount rate of the Chicago Federal Reserve bank either is 'dangerously low' or so unreasonably high as that the bank falls in the requirement that it shall accommodate commerce and business, then the board at Washington may find justification in the law for its action."

"I am not sufficiently familiar with conditions at Chicago to form an opinion on this point. However, I am decidedly apprehensive that the action of the federal reserve board is and was intended to be a long stride in the direction of making the federal reserve board a central bank, with the reserve banks as branches, which is as far from the real intent of the law as anything possibly could be."

Sought to Maintain Secrecy.

While officials of the federal reserve board sought to maintain secrecy as to the exact vote at the time of the action in the Chicago case, it developed that of the seven members present three voted no.

It was learned that Charles S. Hamlin of Massachusetts, who was the first governor of the Federal Reserve Board, and Edmund Platt of New York, present vice governor, were two of the three who protected against the action on the ground that the board under the law had no such authority. The third vote in the negative is understood to have been cast by Adolph C. Miller of California.

Sees No Law for Action.

"I voted as I did because I do not believe that the board has any right under the law to initiate rates," said Mr. Platt. "I furthermore think that such bank should be privileged to fix its own rates."

The four other members of the board who were present at the meeting at which action was taken were Gov. Crissinger, the Marlon, O. Democrat, appointed by the late President Harding; Edward H. Cunningham of Iowa, the "dirt farmer" member; George R. James of Tennessee, and J. W. McIntosh of Illinois, controller of the currency and ex-officio member of the board.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the ex-officio chairman of the board, had not returned to Washington at the time the action was taken. Mr. Mellon got his first information of the action today in a conference with Gov. Strong of the New York Federal Reserve bank, who came to Washington with S. Parker Gilbert, agent general of reparations.

Wants Uniformity of Rates.

Secretary Mellon said after his talk with Mr. Strong that the latter had told him that the action was to secure uniformity of the rates of all the banks of the country.

Mr. Strong refused to comment on the Chicago situation, declaring that he had nothing to do with it.

Mr. Cunningham and Controller of the Currency McIntosh, both of whom reside in the Chicago federal reserve district, were unwilling to comment and Mr. James took a similar attitude.

Members of the board made no secret of their expectation that the action in the Chicago case will precipitate a stormy session when the advisory council of the Federal Reserve board holds its quarterly meeting in Washington next Friday. Frank O. Wetmore, chairman of the First National bank of Chicago, is president of the advisory council, and he is expected to present the view of the directors of the Chicago Federal Reserve bank.

Crissinger Defends Board.

Gov. Crissinger stoutly defended the action of the board. Questioned as to the suspicion entertained in the middle west, that the board is under the influence of Sir Montagu Norman of the Bank of England, he asserted that such a theory was baseless.

"Sir Montagu Norman had nothing in the world to do with it," said Mr. Crissinger. "The reasons for our action are set forth in the September issue of the Federal Reserve Bulletin. I do not care to comment on the situation further than to say that I stand on the statement as made in the bulletin."

Gov. Crissinger was asked as to the charge that the lowering of rediscount rates will lead to excessive speculation in stocks and to an inflation of currency.

"It is ridiculous to say that any such action will take place," asserted Mr. Crissinger.

While Gov. Crissinger maintained that British influence had nothing to do with the matter, the Federal Reserve Bulletin, to which he referred, emphasized the effect of lower rates in restraining the flow of gold from England to the United States and the effect upon the international financial situation in general.

"The growth in the volume of foreign funds in the New York money market during the first six months of 1927 has occurred at a time when the level of money rates was higher in this country than in financial centers abroad," says the bulletin. "The recent decline of the time loan rate in New York has carried it well below the bill rate in London, and the change in the relative position of these rates has resulted in a transfer of funds to London, reflected in a rapid rise of sterling exchange."

"This advance of sterling and of other European exchanges will assist foreign buyers in making their autumn purchases of grain, cotton, and other American farm products. At the same time the decline in rates charged on bankers' acceptance in New York will have a tendency to attract a larger volume of the financing of exports to the banks of this country, and consequently to reduce the demand for credit for this purpose abroad. This establishment of lower rates for money in the United States at this season of the year is facilitating the marketing of American crops and at the same time by relieving the pressure for funds on foreign banks, is exerting a favorable influence on the international financial situation."

CHICAGO BANK ACTS

The first official move of the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago to stop arbitrary dictation to the individual banks of the reserve system by the federal reserve board at Washington was made yesterday when the executive committee of the bank met and passed resolutions authorizing the bank's attorney to demand a new opinion from Attorney General Sargent on the powers of the board. This action followed the reserve board's order to cut the rediscount rate from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent.

May Go to Congress.

The members of the committee took part in a heated discussion of the event and made preparations to carry their case to the courts and congress if necessary.

It was argued that 3 1/2 per cent money was only being had in New York, where speculators are borrowing it on call. Money for crop harvesting purposes and commercial usage is being loaned at 6 and 7 per cent. In the meantime, money at the banks in Chicago is continuing at 4 1/2 per cent.

LEWIS TRUE BILL RETURNED; SEEK TRIAL AT ONCE

The indictments voted Thursday against Harry J. (Lefty) Lewis and four of his alleged associates, charging them with the murder of Max Braverman, father of five children, were returned by the grand jury yesterday before Chief Justice William V. Broderick. Braverman was shot and killed because he refused to pay tribute to a so-called junk peddler's union.

"It is of vital importance to this community that prosecution of these indictments be pushed immediately," said Assistant State's Attorney Ernest Byrne to the judge. "The state's attorney's office is interested in having these men and other hoodlums taken off the streets of Chicago."

Judge Broderick set Monday for arraignment of the alleged slayers and announced that an early trial day would be allowed.

FIGHT TO SAVE HILL EXPECTED TO START HERE

Writ for Youth to Be Asked in Chicago Court.

The legal fight to save young Harry D. Hill, accused of murdering his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Hill, at Streator, Ill., may have its inception in Chicago, provided plans announced yesterday by Attorney W. W. O'Brien should be carried out.

Mr. O'Brien made it known that today he will petition Judge Harry D. Miller in Criminal court for a habeas corpus writ in favor of Hill, thus demanding his appearance before Judge Miller when the young man, now en route from Seattle, Wash., in custody of La Salle county peace officers, reaches Chicago tomorrow afternoon.

Retained by Friends.

It was admitted that young Hill's father, Dr. H. C. Hill, who is with the party bringing Hill back, is not a party to the latest defense move. Mr. O'Brien was reticent as to the occasion of his activity in the case, declaring only that he had been retained by "several good friends" of the Hill family.

"I came from Peoria myself and know everybody down that way," he explained.

Just what move, if any, that State's Attorney Russell O. Hanson of La Salle county, who is reported to be now drawing a murder indictment against Hill, will take to thwart the proposed Chicago action, has not been announced.

"I've had investigators at work on this case for several days, and am convinced that Hill tells the truth when he says he's innocent," said Mr. O'Brien.

Declares Conviction Certain.

To this Mr. Hanson calmly stated that he has a "cinch case" against the 22-year-old Streator youth. The body of Mrs. Hill, with two bullet wounds through the head, was dug from a grave in the basement of the Hill home on Aug. 22. It is believed that she had been killed about Aug. 13.

Young Hill, much heartened, apparently, after being convinced that

FIFTEEN BALLOONS TAKE OFF TODAY IN BENNETT AIR RACE

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Fifteen huge silk bags, each capable of holding 80,000 cubic feet of gas, were spread out in a corner of the airport today, waiting inflation tomorrow at 3 a. m. in preparation for the sixteenth international balloon race for the Gordon Bennett trophy.

Twelve of the bags, which will be released at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, are foreign entrants, representing seven nations. Three entries are from the United States.

The Spanish balloon Hispania, manned by Maj. Enrique Maldonado, pilot, and Maj. Benito Molas, aid, will be the first to ascend. The others will follow at five minute intervals. The fifteenth and last to leave will be the U. S. army balloon manned by Capt. W. E. Kepner, pilot, and Lieut. W. O. Eareckson, aid, one of the three teams defending the United States' possession of the trophy.

Ward T. Van Orman, Akron, O., winner of the trophy last year at Antwerp, Belgium, will be the fifth to take off tomorrow.

his father would stand by him, was in a cheerful mood as he journeyed toward Chicago with his captors. The party, which, besides the father and son, includes Chief of Police William Robb of Streator, Sheriff Floyd Clark of La Salle county, and Assistant State's Attorney Chester Jacobson, left Seattle on Thursday night.

Abandon Fight on Expedition.

Hill would fight removal to Illinois to face the charge of killing his mother, and Gov. Small had forwarded extradition papers to Gov. Hartley of Washington. But at the last moment Dr. Hill, who arrived in Seattle shortly after the Illinois officers, announced that his son would return willingly to Streator.

Attorney O'Brien's proposed action may preclude a fight to gain a change of venue for the trial to Cook county, provided the La Salle county grand jury returns a murder indictment in October.

One belief is that an insanity plea may form the basis of Hill's defense.

FIVE DEATHS IN DAY MAKE 1927 AUTO TOLL 666

Five names were added to Cook county's motor death toll yesterday, making a total of 666 traffic fatalities since Jan. 1. The victims were:

Miss Theresa Congo, 35 years old, 745 Lytle street—Falls injured in collision with motor bus driven by Paul Ruckert, 4848 North Irving avenue, at Adams and Morgan streets.

Agnes Jerome, 14 years old, 2508 Augusta street—Hit Thursday night by truck driven over curb onto sidewalk in front of her home. The driver was John Cade, 559 West North avenue.

Clinton Winters, 47 years old, 1400 West Monroe street—Struck Sept. 3 at Madison and Wells streets by car driven by Clarence Torset, 6200 North Leavitt street.

Charles Walker, 41 years old, 2944 West Congress street—Injured Tuesday in collision at 43d street and Talman avenue with car driven by George Karagiamis, 2519 Washington boulevard.

Richard Critz, 49 years old, 4037 Grace street—Struck Sept. 6 at Milwaukee and Kenneth avenues by automobile that did not stop.

MRS. RICKARD GETS BAIL FOR TEX'S CHAUFFEUR

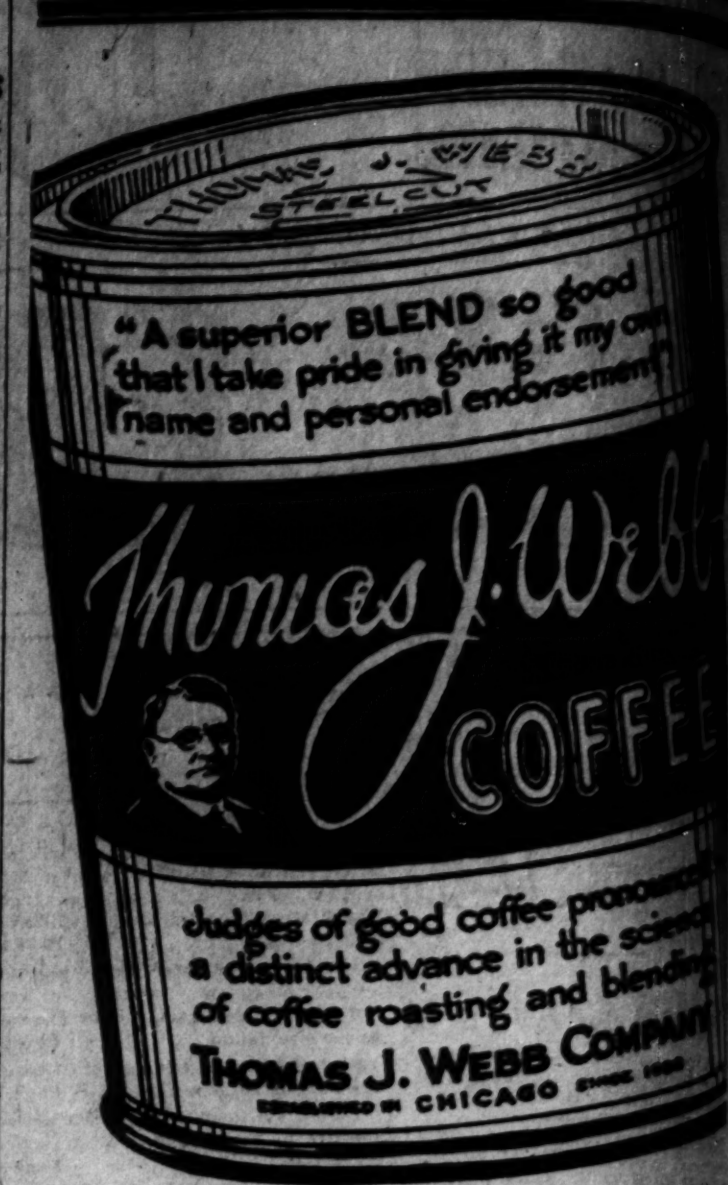

Mrs. Tex Rickard, wife of the fight promoter, was forced to wait in the South Clark street station last night for more than an hour while trying to obtain the release of her chauffeur on bail.

Accompanied by Mrs. Florence Fields, wife of her husband's secretary, she was riding south on the outer drive when Jerry Daugherty, the chauffeur, rammed into another machine from the rear. He was angered, police said, because Bernard Gordon, 21, 6200 Kenmore avenue, had gone around him on a turn.

Bail was furnished the chauffeur by Joe Boynton, said to be a ticket seller for the Dempsey-Tunney fight.

Probe of Fire in Which Three Were Hurt Promised

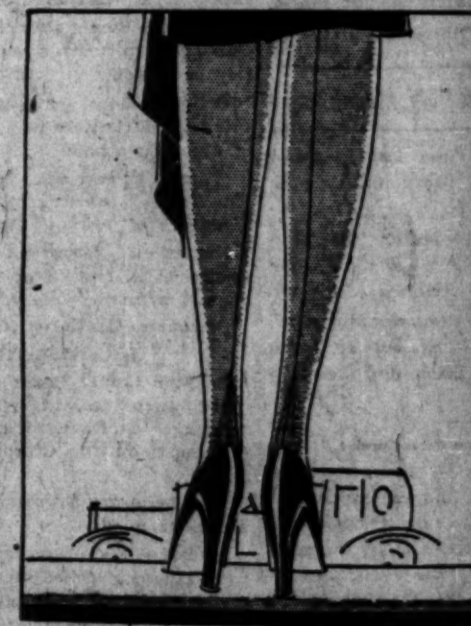

A thorough inquiry into the fire at 770 DeKoven street early yesterday in which three firemen were injured was promised last night by Fire Attorney Scott Hogan. Fire department officials and occupants of the building will probably be called in for questioning today, he said. Spontaneous combustion was first thought to have been the cause of the fire, but it was later attributed to explosion of a still.

SCHOOLS' CHIEFS BEG COATH FOR MORE TEACHERS

Picture Overwork, Chaos
in Some Buildings.

Placed to accommodate 35,016 additional students without any provision for a larger teaching staff to take care of a total of 416,215, the greatest enrollment in the history of the Chicago public schools, principals yesterday met at the Lawis Coath, president of the board of education, and other school officials. The principals begged for more teachers. They said that because of the shortage students were being sent home.

Whole classes that were kept in school buildings were without supervision. In some schools older students had been assigned as temporary pedagogues. In many cases the result was pandemonium.

Available Teachers Overworked.
In some divisions which formerly had assigned thirty or thirty-five students the principals added, teachers were given sixty or sixty-five and with classes so overcrowded teaching value had been reduced to almost nothing. Teachers, the principals told President Coath, had reported their work constantly was interrupted when they had to go into adjoining rooms, that had teachers, to quiet noisy students who had nothing to do.

The school board's recent action in forbidding the appointment of any teacher, temporary or permanent, without formal action by the board, was blamed for the confusion. In previous years the superintendent had supervised the opening of schools, and had made provision to accommodate the increased number of students. For approval by the board had followed later.

Coath Holds the Power.
This year things were different. The president of the board, with recess authority granted him by the board, had sole authority to appoint teachers when the board was not in session. With Superintendent McAndrew under suspension, President Coath functioned as school head.

Principal Walter F. Slocum of the Schurz high school was one of the first to protest. He had 800 more students than last year, and he wanted more teachers. He was told the school board would consider his need at its meeting next week.

Mr. Slocum said that, pending action, all he could do was send the surplus students home.

Take Emergency Measures.
At the Lindbloom high school Principal Harry Keeler reported an increase of 300 and all teachers operating a double schedule. Principal Frank L. Morse of the Harrison Technical High school said his 150 additional students were being parked in study halls and that teachers' free time had been cancelled in order that they might instruct extra classes.

Reports from Wendell Phillips High school were that students were sent to study rooms without teachers and kept there with only an occasional word from a distraught teacher when they became too noisy.

Miss Genevieve Melody, principal of Calumet High, arranged a system whereby seniors were given temporary charge of freshman classrooms. At Tilden and Lane Technical High schools divisions were enlarged from 30 to 35. Principal Grant Beebe of Lane said, "I have been told to get along with my present staff if possible."

Others Report Crowding.
Many elementary and junior high schools reported similar overcrowding. Principal Daniel J. Beeby of the Oglesby elementary school had three rooms each containing more than 51 pupils.

Along with the problem of finding teachers for new students, principals yesterday faced the possible reorganization of their experienced staffs of assistants in their offices. President Coath announced that the substitution of civil service appointees for teachers employed in school offices would begin immediately.

Pleasing the Customers.
Addressing a meeting of high school principals yesterday Mr. Coath said: "You educators must understand that teaching is a business. You are salesmen. Your commodity is education. You must satisfy your customers, the taxpayers."

"We have no time for organizations formed for motives to the detriment of the schools. Some of you principals are unbearable egotists. You must remember that you are no more than a small cog in a great educational machine."

"I hope that I won't have to install time clocks in the schools. But you are school teachers not speechmakers. There'll be no more running around to Kiwanis clubs to make addresses."

Urban A. Lavery, attorney for the extra teachers to be replaced by clerical help under civil service, last night said that another petition would be filed in the superior court for an injunction to restrain the board from such action.

MINISTER FACES QUESTIONING AS 2 DIE IN FAMILY

Arrest Nurse as Letters and Poison Are Found.

Enid, Okla., Sept. 9.—[Special.]—The Rev. Charles Bailey was to be questioned by authorities late today in connection with the death yesterday of his daughter, Mary Jane, aged 18, and the death Aug. 26 of his wife.

Mary Atkinson, 26, the Bailey nurse, has been arrested and is being interrogated. Her arrest followed discovery of letters in her room from the Rev. Bailey and the finding of a quantity of poison pills. Contents of the letters were not disclosed.

Suspicion of authorities was aroused by the mysterious illness of Mary Jane and three other Bailey children. Miss Atkinson was with the girl when she died yesterday. The other three children are said to be improving.

Threatened Suicide.
Saturday Bailey is said to have asked Miss Atkinson to leave his home. She had been living there since May when she came to Enid from Gainesville, Tex., shortly after the minister and his family arrived here from that place. She moved into a neighborhood home and the same evening telephoned Bailey she intended committing suicide. Bailey and members of his family rushed over and prevented the act.

Monday, Bailey left for Trinidad, Colo., with his daughter, Betty Ann, aged 8, where he intended to leave her with relatives. Miss Atkinson is reported again to have visited the Bailey home and attended members of the family.

Bailey arrived home from Colorado today. He was met at Newton, Kas., by his son and two members of the congregation and made the trip to Enid by auto. He is said to be suffering from shock and would make no statement.

Is Not Arrested.
Bailey was not placed under arrest, but a conference with authorities was scheduled for tonight.

An autopsy was held late yesterday on the body of the daughter, Mary Jane, but until tests are made of the findings it will not be known whether the girl was poisoned.

While waiting in the sheriff's office last night, Miss Atkinson broke down and cried. She was taken into Mitchell's private office, where he and Sheriff C. E. Baker questioned her. She denied having anything to do with the deaths, they said.

JAPANESE EMPRESS GIVES BIRTH TO GIRL; NATION WANTED BOY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
TOKIO, Sept. 10.—Empress Nagako today presented the nation with a second princess and the high hopes of the Japanese people that a son and heir to the throne would be born have changed to disappointment.

The emperor, Hirohito, had a sword ready to present in the event that a boy was born, but substituted it for a skirt as the first gift to his second daughter.

The most disappointed member of the royal family is Prince Chichibu, eldest brother of the emperor, who is next in line for the succession until the emperor has a son. Prince Chichibu had half finished a course at Oxford when he was recalled to attend his father's funeral. Since then he has been unable to go abroad because of the possibility that he would be called to the throne in the event of the death of his brother. Had the child been a son Prince Chichibu would soon have returned to London via America, which he strongly desires to do.

When the babe was born sacred bow strings were twanged in the birth chamber. The sound of this is supposed to drive away evil influences.

PRIVATE BUILDING BLOCKS WORK ON OUTER DRIVE LINK

Another obstacle, it was learned last night, has appeared to prevent the immediate construction of the outer boulevard link bridge. This is the fact, reported to President David H. Jackson of the Lincoln park board, that the Greer paper company has a permit and has started to build an addition to its plant between the Ogden slip and the river on property which the projected route of the bridge would cross.

During his absence from the city Mr. Jackson authorized his chief engineer, Henry A. Marbach, to study the problem of securing the right of way for the north stretch of the span. Mr. Marbach discovered the Greer obstacle and reported that it would likely be an expensive and lengthy process to condemn the property.

If it is found that condemnation would be too expensive, Mr. Jackson said, the only solution would be to build the bridge at the extreme south of the river at the base of the Municipal pier.

Village of Oak Park to Celebrate on Nov. 5

Plans were announced yesterday at a meeting of civic leaders for the celebration on Nov. 5 of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Oak Park as a village. A homecoming week, lasting until Nov. 12, will be held in connection with the anniversary. William Haiges was made chairman.

CAYLOR RETURNS, BUT NOT TO THE CRIMINAL COURT

Judge Again Argues He's Served Enough There.

Judge Worth E. Caylor of the Superior court, who was assigned to Criminal court and has so far failed to report to that division, returned to Chicago yesterday and refused to announce what his future action would be.

Before leaving on his vacation Judge Caylor directed Samuel Erickson, clerk of the Superior court, to prepare a law calendar for him and order a civil venire. This the clerk has refused to do.

Will Decide Later.
"I have not decided what action I will take," Judge Caylor said yesterday. "I will be guided by the law and the facts in the matter involved. I have not decided yet whether to go to the Criminal court."

The judge appeared at his old County building courtroom. His criminal courtroom is idle waiting for him. Judge Caylor pointed out that if he decided to hold civil court he would not want for business, that he is as much a judge of the court as any of his associates, and has the power to dispose of cases irrespective of his Criminal court assignment.

"I was elected to fill out the four year term of Judge McDonald, who resigned to take up 'banking,'" said Judge Caylor yesterday. "While engaged in civil law work in the fall of 1925 I was asked in the middle of November by Judge Hugo Pam, representing the executive committee, to take criminal law cases."

Says He Had Pledge.
"I told him that I certainly would do so at the request of State's Attorney Crowe, but that I wanted it understood that if I served the remainder of that year, it was to be considered a service of a year in criminal work and that I would not again be assigned to the Criminal court during my term. This was agreed to by Judge Pam and I immediately began Criminal court work and served 8½ months."

"Without consulting me this same executive committee that made the previous arrangement through Judge Pam assigned me to the Criminal court. I have served my full share of time in the Criminal court."

"Under the constitution of the state of Illinois it is specifically stated that the judges must serve in the Criminal court in alternation as near as possible. Several judges have not been over to the Criminal court in many years and it is their turn."

ably follows." The attitude of the department, the letter said, is that the benefit to be gained by the successful accomplishment of the flight does not compare with the hazards involved in it.

Declines to Station Ships. In response to a plea by Harold E. Hartney, president of the General Airways corporation, that cruisers be stationed in the Pacific to guard against disaster befalling Brock and Schlie, the round the world flyers, Mr. Robinson said:

"At the present time the department has no ships available to comply with your suggestion, and if it had, I personally would oppose their disposal in the Pacific as I do not think the proposed flight should be attempted in a land plane, even if ships were placed at various stations. In addition to the inadvisability of the proposed flight in a land plane, I am informed that neither flyer is a navigator."

Withdraw Philadelphia Purse. Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 9.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin and the aviation committee of the Philadelphia chamber of commerce late today decided to withdraw the offer of a $25,000 award for the first nonstop flight from Europe to Philadelphia.

Boston Cancels Offer. Boston, Mass., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Withdrawal of the Boston airport transatlantic flight purse for the current year because of unreasonable weather was announced today by the trustees. The purse had been set at $25,000 for the first flyer to land in Boston on a hop from the other side.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE SEEKS WAY TO MAKE OCEAN FLYING SAFE

Rapid City, S. D., Sept. 9.—(AP)

Concerned over the recent disasters involved in transoceanic flying attempts, President Coolidge intends to investigate the circumstances with a view to determining if overseas aviation can be made more certain.

Mr. Coolidge doubts if government regulation of ocean flights can be of any great value. He expressed regret today over the numerous recent tragedies. The failure of planes attempting to cross from both sides of the Atlantic have shown in his opinion, that the accomplishment of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in going direct from New York to Paris was more remarkable than at first considered.

It has occurred to him that perhaps it will be well not to permit single motored land planes to make overseas flights, but he realizes, also, that if a seaplane drops in midocean it stands very little show of surviving the elements until rescued.

L. F. Freiburger, president of the chamber.

OCEAN HOP HALTED

New York, Sept. 9.—(Special).—With two more lives added to the toll which the North Atlantic has taken in recent days from men who tried to cross its storm swept waters in airplanes, the waves are triumphant.

C. A. Schiller and Phil Wood of the Royal Windsor who had planned to hop off from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, tomorrow in search for Capt. Terry Tuiley and Lieut. James Medcalf, the latest victims, were notified by the Windsor, Ont., flight committee today to abandon their proposed flight to Wind. or England.

Meanwhile the search at sea for Tuiley and Medcalf in the Sir John Carling and Lloyd Bertaud, James D. Hill and Philip A. Payne in Old Glory virtually has been abandoned. Theoretically there is a chance that they may still be afloat either in their planes or in rubber lifeboats. It is not a very good chance. The flyers had food enough to last a week or more, but if they fell in high seas it is believed their planes would be torn to pieces in a few minutes and their boats swamped in hardly less time.

Ship Gives Up Search. The abandonment of the search for Old Glory by the Cleveland Carnation is believed to be indicated, according to Cunard officials, by a radio received today from the ship's master.

Capt. F. G. Brown. The dispatch follows:

"11:30 a. m. GMT. Latitude 48.34 north longitude 46.43 west. Have now proceeded 380 miles over estimated opposite course of plane Old Glory from her farthest estimated eastern position with vigilant lookout throughout the night. No trace seen. Weather moderating gradually after dark. Now gentle southerly breeze. Visibility first part of night was very good with intervals of bright moonlight."

The only bright spot in the record of the moment's aviation came with the cable report that the round the world flyers William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlie, were safe at Hongkong.

The number of dead in long distance ocean flights since last May has mounted to twenty. Seven more, it is estimated, were killed in preparation for such flights.

HALTS COURTNEY HOP

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) (Copyright, 1927, by The Chicago Tribune.) LONDON, Sept. 9.—The Westminster Gazette tonight directed Capt. Frank Courtney, whose projected flight to and from America it was sponsoring, to make no further attempts and releasing him from any further obligations to continue. Courtney is now at Corunna, Spain, where he landed after attempting to fly to the Azores. Regarding a government ban on Atlantic flights, the air ministry has decided that it is not a matter for which the government can take responsibility and therefore no steps will be taken.

There was almost a row at Waterloo station this morning between Charles Levine and "Doc" Kinkade, the Wright engine expert, who is returning to the United States. Mr. Levine declared he was quite undismayed by the disasters of the last few days and was ready to make the flight any time a favorable weather report was received.

"Then if you do," Mr. Kinkade said, "you will go without my O. K. I have given you no certificate of worthiness for that journey for the Columbia. She is not fit to face what I tell you is coming to her if she starts too late, and I refuse to have the responsibility for two deaths. What you should do now is pack up and go home by boat, and if you still want to try again next year, all right."

Mr. Levine, in spite of this warning, insists he will wait another week before giving up hope of crossing the Atlantic this year.

Lord Thomson Opposes Flights. Lord Thomson, who was air minister in the Labor government, declares Atlantic flying is useless. An opposite view is taken by Air Marshal Sir Seton Branner, chief of civil aviation, who declares a western flight over the Atlantic must be made. Hope has now been given up here for both airplanes Old Glory and Sir John Carling. Mrs. Metcalf, wife of the pilot of the Sir John Carling, is reported, grieved at her father's home near Lincoln.

Germans Plan Big Flying Boats. (Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BERLIN, Sept. 9.—Despite the disillusionment concerning ocean flying and the German flyers' abandonment of their attempts to cross the Atlantic this year, delegates to the convention of German shipping, passenger companies, air lines, and airplane constructors are optimistic about the future of trans-oceanic flying, as well as connection lines for delivering and receiving passengers at sea.

The Junkers, Dornier, Rohrbach and Rumpier aircraft companies were represented at the convention. Experts declared that the future of transatlantic airways lies with flying boats carrying about 100 passengers, and many motors, capable of cruising at sea until land is reached in case of an accident. Models were exhibited.

The German passenger lines will participate in building and exploiting these flying boats, although they do not fear them as rivals for many years. For the next ten years flying boats will be a luxury, but safe.

"One Good Turn Deserves Another"

IT'S your turn now, because every turn of this new Fall Turn Style in all our windows, in all our stores, in every city in U. S. A. presents for your selection a thousand new Styles for Fall in all the new Shapes and Shades.

Perhaps the most noticeable of all the new designs we introduced this Fall is the "Piping Rock". It's a Double-Cut Edge at $5.00, which is now shown prominently by others at $10.00—and you can't tell the difference, in the window or on your head.

The "Brier Cliff" is another. It's an imported Wool Felt, finished by us in America. We have it at $3.50 in all the new woodland shades from a delicate Maplewood Tan to a bright Silver Birch.

And here's a thought to put under your hat. Light colors are going to be popular this Fall but it's not necessary to pay a heavy price for a light color. Dust and dirt will spoil the complexion of a light color regardless of price, and the Weather Man doesn't care whether you pay $3.50 or $13.50.

In our imported Wool Felt we reproduce for $3.50 any color shown by any hat manufacturer AT ANY PRICE.

We cannot reproduce our beautiful new Fall Colors in black ink, and we can't show our Turn-Style in motion in this newspaper.

But if you'll come into our stores we will be glad to show you all the Colors in all Styles, with Brims that snap down, Brims that lay flat and Brims that turn up. Welt edges, raw edges and a variety of silk-bound, satin-lined hats for three-fifty and five.

GLOBE GIRDERS QUIT HONGKONG; REACH SHANGHAI

Brock Tells of the Flight
Over South Asia.

BULLETIN.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 10. (AP)—The round the world monoplane, Pride of Detroit, arrived here from Hong Kong at 5:30 p. m. tonight after a flight of 780 miles. It left Hong Kong at 6:25 o'clock this morning.

HONGKONG, Sept. 9.—Our journey from Rangoon was devoid of special interest. We left Rangoon at 8:15 yesterday morning and arrived at Hanoi at 6:15 the same night. We had a bit of trouble in the mountains after we left Hanoi at 7 this morning.

When we left Rangoon clouds were low and it was raining but there was no wind. The engine was running evenly and everything was splendid. We intended to land at Bangkok but made good time on the uneventful trip that we decided not to land there. We passed over Bangkok but did not notice the time and made for Hanoi.

Clouds compelled us to fly low and we had a hard time getting over the mountains in the fog and rain and with head winds. Our engine was running beautifully. We had a difficult job winding around mountain tops but were never in danger of having to make a forced landing. We had to turn around a couple of times and go back and take another shot at it.

[The flyers are expected to go from Hanoi to Tokyo, where one report says they may take a boat for the United States instead of attempting to fly the Pacific via Midway islands and Hawaii.]

Welcomed to Hongkong.

[Copyright, 1927, by the New York Times.]
HONGKONG, Sept. 9.—The Pride of Detroit with William Brock and Edward Schlee omitted Bangkok yesterday, went on to Hanoi and reached Hongkong today. Their arrival ended the apprehension caused by their plane being out of touch with the world for 33 hours.

[The flyers, who have now been on the road 11 days, have covered 10,895 miles, or 766 miles less than half the 22,222 mile route around the world.]

The monoplane, Pride of Detroit, hopped off on Aug. 27 at 7:44 o'clock, Newfoundland summer time (5:14 o'clock, Chicago daylight saving time) on the first leg of its flight around the world. William B. Brock and Edward F. Schlee are aboard. Landed at Croydon field, London, at 10:35 a. m. on Aug. 28, a distance of 2,350 miles in 23 hours and 21 minutes. Aug. 29 saw them arriving at Munich, Germany, a distance of 600 miles. Flying time about 7 hours. On Aug. 30 they reached Belgrade, flying 500 miles in 5 1/2 hours. Aug. 31 they landed in Constantinople at 11:45 a. m. They were held up by the Turkish authorities until Sept. 2. Arrived Bagdad at 9:30 p. m. Sept. 2. Sept. 3 saw them leaving Bagdad at 7 in the morning for Bender Abbas, Persia, and they left Bender Abbas at sunrise, Sept. 4, for Karachi, India. They reached Karachi at 2:35 p. m. Sept. 5 hopped off from Karachi at 6 a. m. for Allahabad, 923 miles, and made the flight in 8 hours and 50 minutes. Sept. 6 the Pride of Detroit arrived at Calcutta at 11:40 in the morning. Sept. 7 they left Calcutta for Rangoon, Burma, 655 miles away and arrived at Rangoon at 2:50 o'clock in the afternoon. From there they flew to Hongkong, China, completing 10,385 miles of their trip in 14 days. They have 11,827 miles still to go.

LIMA, Peru, Sept. 9.—[U. P.]—An automobile tourist arriving here from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, says he saw on the wild Mato Grosso plateau Col. P. H. Fawcett, British explorer, missing since May, 1925, and Fawcett's son, Jack.

The automobile, an engineer named Courtville, asserts he found the two Fawcetts in good health. Flying about 100 miles from Diamantina, in the mountains, at the source of the Parana river. The Fawcetts intended to explore the plateau to prove Col. Fawcett's claim that very ancient ruins remained there. Col. Fawcett held that the plateau was the cradle of white civilization.

[Richard Marsh, American explorer, is due to start Tuesday from New York on an expedition, with the cooperation of the Smithsonian institution. One of its primary objects was to search for Col. Fawcett. Now the search is to be extended for Paul Redfern, missing Brunswick, Ga., aviator.]

Lieut. Williams Will Try for Air Speed Record

Garden City, N. Y., Sept. 9.—[U. P.]—Definitely out of the Schneider cup races in Venice, Italy, Lieut. Alford J. Williams expects to make an attempt to break the world's land plane speed record with his racing plane next week at Mitchell field.

The present speed record for land planes of 278 miles an hour was established by Warrant Officer Bonnet of the French army in France in 1925.

The neck piece was found by a party of searchers after a report was made to the Honolulu Advertiser that an object which appeared to be the torso of a man was hooked by a fisherman.

COURT CONDEMNNS LAND FOR TAYLOR STREET WIDENING

Legal obstacles to the widening of Taylor street between Canal and Halsted streets were cleared away yesterday by a condemnation order entered by County Judge J. E. Van Keuren. It will cost $700,000 to widen the one mile strip from 40 to 80 feet, according to Attorney Irvin Rooks, who represented the city.

The Taylor avenue improvement is part of a general plan to widen all of the major traffic streets in the territory bounded by Roosevelt road, Canal, Halsted and Harrison streets, as recommended by the Chicago plan commission. The entire program will cost $5,000,000. President Michael J. F. Hearty of the board of local improvements has announced that he will push all of the special assessment proceedings through the courts as fast as possible.

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 9.—[Special.]—Joseph M. Schenck, millionaire head of the United Artists movie combination, left today for New York, and it was reported that he will succeed the late Marcus Loew in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer corporation.

Mr. Schenck denied he was slated for Loew's post and said he knew nothing of a report that steps already have been taken for the merging of United Artists and the M. G. M. combination into a combine for the making and distribution of movies.

Schenck's brother, Nicholas Schenck, is temporarily in charge of the late Marcus Loew's duties as head of the movie combination.

LOWDEN HERE AFTER VACATION; WARY ON 1928

Meets Some Advisers; Talks Later, Perhaps.

Former Gov. Frank O. Lowden returned from the east yesterday after an extensive vacation and began a survey of the presidential field from the vantage point of his home state.

Since the announcement by President Coolidge that his choice ran counter to another presidential campaign, Mr. Lowden has been asked frequently as to his intentions. His replies usually have concerned the presidential campaign.

"I have just returned from a rather long absence," he said at the Blackstone hotel, "and I haven't been here long enough to get any intelligent idea of what has been happening since I went away. I would prefer to say nothing at all on the subject at this time."

May Talk Politics Today.

Mr. Lowden appeared in good health. During the afternoon he and Clarence Buck, who has been looking after the Lowden prospects in the central states, were in conference. Today, it was said, visitors from several of those states would be in Chicago and talk over affairs with their choice of a presidential possibility.

A rumor that Mr. Lowden would issue a formal announcement of his candidacy on Saturday, and which had gained considerable circulation, came to the attention of the Lowden conference, and was immediately denied.

"That is not true," he said. "It is just pure foolishness. There will be time for announcements when there is something definite to announce."

Just what Lowden's return portends in regard to the active beginning of the 1928 battle only can be conjectured, so far as this possibility for the candidacy is concerned. Whether it is the intention to establish headquarters in Chicago, or when such a

BORAH CHARGES PLOT IN EUROPE DIRECTED AGAINST U. S. GOODS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—Sharp disapproval of the new French tariffs, which virtually prohibit the importation of many American products, was voiced today by Senator William E. Borah (Rep., Idaho), chairman of the senate's foreign relations committee.

The new tariffs and the ratification of a Franco-German trade treaty, under which the latter nation are accorded a "most favored nation" status, are indisputable proofs, according to the senator, that European nations are combining economically against the United States.

"It is apparent," he declared, "that the European nations are entering an economic combination and, in view of this, I can see no reason for this country to relinquish any weapon she may have to preserve her own interests."

The senator declined to discuss the matter in detail, pending the receipt of complete reports on the operation of the French tariffs and the terms of the Franco-German treaty, but he indicated that he believes no more leniency should be shown European countries in the settlement of their war debts if they show a disposition to discriminate against American made products.

Step would be taken, if at all, could not be learned.

It is likely that Mr. Lowden will leave late today for a week-end at his home near Oregon, Ill., but is to return to Chicago next week.

Norris: "Lowden—Yes—No."

United States Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, who is credited with being the possible presidential choice of a reorganized progressive wing of the Republican party in the middle western states, also was in Chicago yesterday. He spoke before the City club on "Religion and Politics" at noon. He said, before leaving for Omaha last evening, he had been away from home so long that he did not have any idea how political affairs line up in his region. Of Mr. Lowden's status in Nebraska, he said:

"Mr. Lowden is acceptable to a large proportion of Nebraska, but to many also he is not acceptable. He is a progressive as far as agriculture is concerned, and as such is representative of the thought in our state. However, in other directions it is quite certain that he is not a progressive."

TOWN COOLIDGE MADE FAMOUS BIDS HIM GOOD-BY

Rapid City Shows Gratitude for Summer Visit.

BULLETIN.

Rapid City, S. D., Sept. 9.—(U. P.)—President Coolidge's summer vacation special train left here at 9:50 p. m., mountain time tonight.

Mr. Coolidge, Mrs. Coolidge and their son John, motored 25 miles from their summer White House and boarded the train at Rapid City.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Rapid City, S. D., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—President Coolidge's farewell to the Black Hills today was marked by an unusual demonstration in his honor by the people of this city, which has been the seat of the national government all summer.

More than 5,000 citizens of the population of 7,500 gathered on the lawn, steps and street in front of the school house executive office to tender him a simple tribute of appreciation for all that his visit has meant to them.

The President, replying to Mayor J. V. Jenson's few words of good-bye, told of his pleasure and great interest in this visit, his appreciation of the bountiful hospitality received by him and his family. He talked of the crops, his job, his neighbors and friends as one who has entered into a new family relationship.

Pays Tribute to Norbeck.

He paid a splendid tribute to Senator Peter Norbeck, who was the leader in the establishment of the state game park where the summer White House has been for three months, referring to him as "one of the great men of the nation that your state may well honor in any way that you can."

There has already been a healthy presidential boom started for the senator, who has the Republican party in the state well in his control.

Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John, stood on the office steps with the President while the band played and the crowd cheered. The town was decorated with flags and business was suspended for half an hour.

In his farewell address the President said:

"In taking my leave I want to express again my very deep appreciation for all the hospitality that has been bestowed upon us and my hope that in the future I may make many visits to this pleasant and remarkable locality."

Passes Through Chicago Tonight.

The President then returned to his office for half an hour, received press correspondents and wound up his affairs here, before boarding his special train in the evening for the trip back to Washington. The special will stop at Brookings, S. D., tomorrow morning for dedication of the Lincoln Memorial library. That is the only formal pause in the homeward journey. The President will go through Chicago late tomorrow night, the train stopping there only half an hour. The trip will be made over the Northwestern railroad to Chicago and the Baltimore and Ohio to Washington.

Norbeck for Vice President

Rapid City, S. D., Sept. 9.—(U. P.)

On the basis of President Coolidge's statement today that Senator Norbeck of this state is regarded by him "as one of the great men of this nation," Chester N. Leedom, prominent South Dakota politician, later launched a movement to have the senator become a candidate for Vice President.

Paul Ash Sundae

Composed by Paul Ash, himself, for people who have a palate for music

Those thousands of Chicagoans who thrill to the "Rajah's" music find in the Paul Ash Sundae a powerful degree of that same jazz artistry.

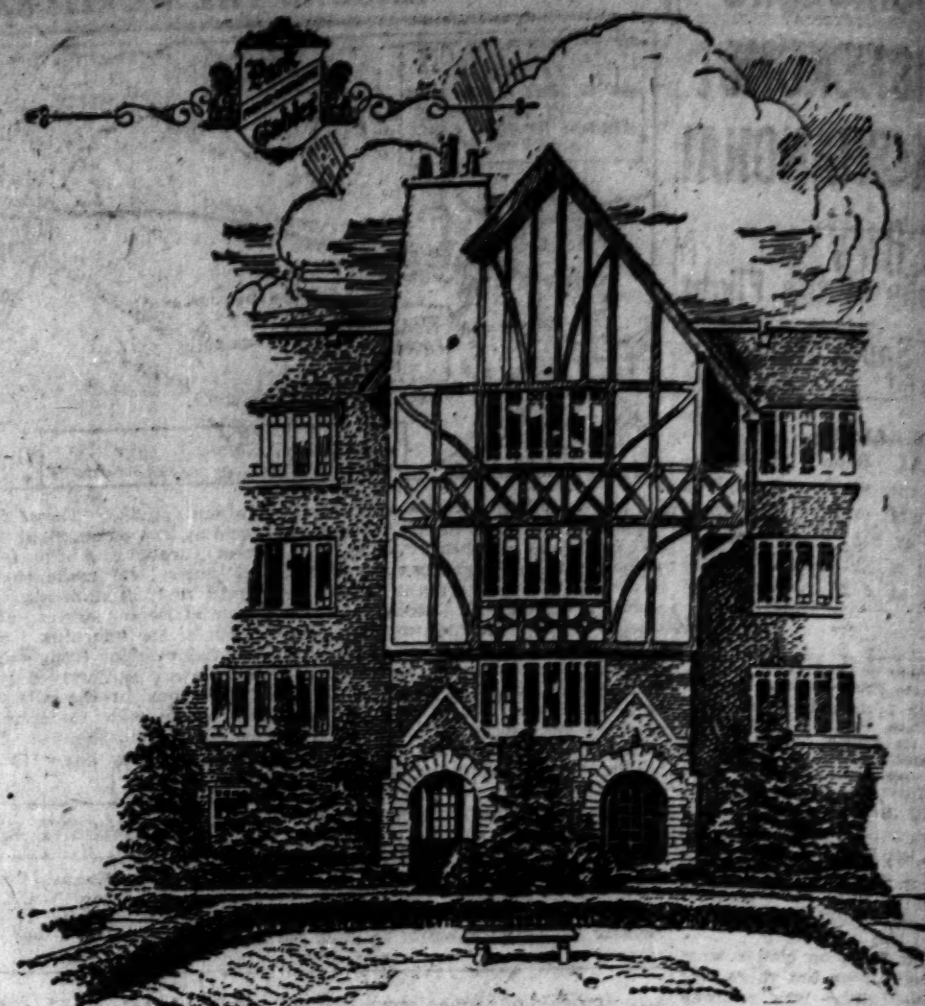

But musical appreciation isn't necessary to enjoyment of this delicacy. Even those who boast of not knowing one note from another (bank notes excepted) find themselves imbued with a surprising sense of joyous harmony after having a Paul Ash Sundae.

Walgreen's Double Rich Ice Cream, creamed Mild Bittersweet Chocolate, fresh, crisp pecans, whipped cream—these are the component parts of this delicious symphony. The arrangement—the work of the Rajah, himself—is such that one senses in it the crooning smoothness of the sax, the snap of muted trumpets, and the enlivening pulse-beat of tom-toms. Try a Paul Ash Sundae TODAY!

This man found a "home"
—in Park Gables

HE is one of a hundred and sixty who are now enjoying the comfort, convenience and happiness that come with the ownership of a co-operative apartment in this delightful community.

But his story may interest you.

He came to rent. Like you he had rented apartments in desirable neighborhoods only to be annoyed by the deterioration of neighborhood after neighborhood.

You can't prevent that. Landlords must have tenants.

Weary of moving, he came in to find an apartment where he could look out on trees instead of brick walls; where he could see children playing safely and happily instead of hearing the noise of traffic and breathing the exhaust of automobiles; where he could have this, plus the conveniences of city life and apartment dwelling.

He found it in Park Gables.

He came to rent and stopped to buy.

You can do that too. Here you find the sort of people you will like for permanent neighbors; the kind of a location that keeps you happy and makes you proud to show it to your friends; the permanence of habitation that you will be happy to call "home"—and at a price that you can easily handle on our reasonable financing plan.

Come and see Park Gables. Our time is yours to command. We will gladly show you this ideal residential community and give you all the information you may ask.

Park Gables is located in Rogers Park overlooking Indian Boundary Park and is between Lunt and Estes Aves. (7100 North, 2400 West.) Come out today. It is never too much trouble to show the many unequalled advantages you can have as an owner of a 4, 5 or 6-room co-operative apartment in Park Gables.

GETZ, STEVENS APPEAL TO G. O. P. FOR CONVENTION

Write Letters to All Committeemen.

Determined that Chicago shall be the scene of the Republican national convention in 1928, George Getz and Elmer Stevens this morning will send letters to all members of the national committee setting forth the advantages of Chicago as the convention city and offering to underwrite the expenses of the gathering.

With the Chicago Association of Commerce behind him, Mr. Getz, in his capacity of chairman of its convention committee, and Elmer Stevens, as chairman of the mayor's executive committee, have put their signatures to the letters which reiterate and reinforce the arguments advanced in previous letters from Allen F. Moore, national committeeman from Illinois.

Urges Individual Support.
"On behalf of the special committee appointed by the Chicago Association of Commerce, representing the leading business interests of this city, I wish to seek your assistance and vote for Chicago," the letter reads. "The reasons why Chicago should be selected as the Republican national convention city in 1928 are so admirably and fully set forth by Mr. Moore in his recent communication as to make unnecessary any lengthy repetition of them."

"However, I desire to reiterate briefly a few of the outstanding arguments advanced by him."

1. Chicago, the leading railroad center, is easily and conveniently reached from all parts of the country.
2. New additions to Chicago's well known hotel facilities provide ample accommodations capable of caring comfortably for the largest possible attendance.

Hotel Rates Held Down.
3. The hotel managers of Chicago have given positive assurance that the hotel rates would not be increased should the Republican national convention come to Chicago.

4. Chicago can provide, as it has in the past, a suitable place for holding the sessions of the convention.

5. Chicago offers the convention visitors more in the way of recreation and entertainment than other cities seeking the convention.

"At the proper time the special committee will submit a definite order to defray all the expenses of the convention."

"We join with Mr. Moore in hoping

200 SCHOOL CHILDREN OF UNION MINERS ARE OUT ON STRIKE

Washington, Pa., Sept. 9.—(Special.)

Two hundred children, sons and daughters of union coal miners in the district, walked out of the Sunnyside school, Forward township, Allegheny county, when between 35 and 40 children of nonunion miners entered the school. The striking students declare they will not return as long as the boys and girls of the nonunion miners are permitted to attend classes.

The Pittsburgh Coal company, which is operating a mine at Sunnyside on a nonunion basis, has appealed to the department of education to assist in the case.

State police also have been asked to give protection to the children of the nonunion miners, it being claimed that on Tuesday of this week they were frightened away from the school.

that the proposal to have the Republican national convention meet in Chicago in 1928 will have your approval and support."

This portion of the letter is signed by Mr. Getz. There is an additional appeal from Mr. Stevens.

Warm, Muggy Weather Is Predicted for Week-End

Week-end weather for the Chicago district will be warm and muggy, Prof. Henry J. Cox, local weather forecaster, said yesterday. Local showers are expected. The thermometer reached 77 degrees at 3 o'clock yesterday. This was below the highest temperature on record local for Sept. 8, which is 84 degrees, recorded in 1897.

SUES TO KNOCK OUT NEW STATE PRIMARY LAW

McAlpine of Dixon Hits
Legislative Act.

Dixon, Ill., Sept. 9.—[Special.]—Litigation thought to be the first step in an effort to again destroy the primary election system of this state was instituted in the Circuit court at Dixon this afternoon by William J. McAlpine of Dixon. McAlpine was the successful complainant in a suit finally decided by the Supreme court last June which invalidated all primary laws of the state.

The effect of that decision, however, was overcome by the legislature passing a new set of primary laws. These are now attacked in a bill for injunction and it is expected that the matter will be heard at the September term of court.

Attacks Legislative Primary.
The action started today relates only to the constitutionality of the legislative primary act, which controls only the nomination of candidates for the legislature and election of senatorial committees. No information could be obtained as to when action would be taken with reference to an attack on the general primary law or the form of the attack, but it is understood that serious constitutional defects have been found in that law also, which will be taken advantage of when the interested parties are ready to proceed. The bill filed today asks the court to enjoin the use of any public money in the treasury of Lee county toward paying for printing the names of candidates for the legislature and senatorial committees on the primary ballots, or for any other purpose in carrying out the provisions of the law, which it is claimed is invalid, in the election to be held in April, 1938.

Questions Committees' Status.
The complainant questions the provisions of the act authorizing the existing senatorial committees, elected under the old law, to act under the new law until new committees are elected next April and to designate how many candidates shall be nominated by each party in the primary. The bill points out that the committee elected for the 35th district, which includes Lee county, never has organized, and challenges their right to act after the courts have held void the law under which they were elected.

The bill quotes five different provisions of the Illinois constitution alleged to be violated by the legislative primary act. It also claims that while the measure was pending in legislature it was amended many times and was finally passed without being printed with its amendments, as required by the constitution.

CROOKS' TRICKS IN HANDLING STOLEN AUTOS REVEALED

They Favor Used Cars,
Police Say.

Seven chances out of ten a used car bargain being driven today is a stolen car, unless purchased from a recognized and authorized dealer. "Even authorized dealers are often found to have handled stolen cars with motor and serial plates so cleverly counterfeited that they have deceived home factory representatives," Lieut. John Joseph Farrell of the stolen auto department of the detective bureau said yesterday.

Lieut. Farrell, known as John-Jo on the Chicago police force for the last quarter century, yesterday explained how auto thieves operated. When Chief Michael Hughes appointed him to take charge of the stolen auto department, John-Jo introduced a new axiom for his men. "Get your man. Never mind the stolen car. It takes care of itself."

How Cars Are Traced.
"Car stealing is an endless ring," he said. "Pick up a hot car, that is, one that is stolen, and ask the driver where he got it. He may be entirely innocent and tell you the name of a dealer or friend, who, in turn, will tell you about some more men in the ring."

"We've had cases where men bought wrecked cars for the motor plates. They'd dispose of the wreck and duplicate the numbers on several cars to be sold. Others will go into a garage and clip the number plates of parked cars to replace those on ones they've stolen. Last week we caught a thief with an ingenious way of stealing the plates. He had a long pair of pliers with an electric flashlight at the end. He could clip the plates without even bending over to work."

Can Find Real Number.
"Thieves can duplicate motor plates so mechanics don't suspect that anything is amiss. I've taught my men how to detect a counterfeit by feeling it as a bank clerk tests money. Sometimes the thief files off the engine number and stamps on a new one. We apply an acetylene torch at a certain heat. The faked number fades off and the original stands out in the background."

So cleverly are the motor plates faked that factory representatives are often unable to tell at first whether they are the original numbers or not. Lieut. Farrell quoted one instance where a prominent sales house was duped.

meantime, discovered the loss and reported it as a theft to the police."

Was a Stolen Car.
"When the man realized that the car was considered stolen property and felt the joke had gone far enough, he called me and asked me to mark it recovered by owner. I turned the car number over to one of my men and asked him to check on it."

"It's a hot one," said the policeman reporting back to his chief. "What do you mean?" asked John-Jo. "It was only reported yesterday and has been recovered." "It's still a hot one," answered the detective. "Our records show that it was stolen four months ago in Seattle, Wash."

"That just shows how the factories and salesmen can be duped," said Farrell. "Before a man buys a piece of property he'll spend $50 looking up the property rights. Think he'd do that with an automobile? If he did, auto thieves wouldn't get away with so much murder."

SOVIET STAFFS CUT AS STATE INDUSTRIES LOSE

White Collar Men to Be Put Out First.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Copyright, 1937, by The Chicago Tribune.]

RIGA, Latvia, Sept. 9.—Because of the failure of a 200,000,000 ruble ($100,000,000) interior loan to finance the steadily losing Russian industries, the soviet people's commissars, according to the Moscow Izvestia, have decreed that a majority of the government departments immediately must reduce their office management and administrative personnel 30 per cent. The decree affects the commissariats of communications, health, education, finance and trade, as well as government subsidized cooperatives, syndicates and trusts.

Enforcement of the order, the de-crete states, will affect a 200,000,000 ruble economy which will enable the government to keep the industries operating, thus avoiding throwing more workers into the ranks of the unemployed, who at present number more than 2,000,000.

White Collar Men Hit.

The commissars, the decree says, had to choose between white collar workers and factory employees, and it is considered inadvisable to discharge more union men. The white collar workers who have red cards showing their membership in the communist party will be the last to be discharged, since the decree specifies that the nonparty elements will lose their jobs first.

Only the soviet fleet, Red army, state political police, and commissariat or foreign affairs are exempted from the decree's provisions.

Soviet Anti-Soviet Newspaper.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
MOSCOW, Sept. 9.—On complaint of the soviet embassy, Berlin police confiscated this morning's edition of Rul, a Russian anti-bolshevik newspaper. Rul had declared all the soviet embassies, consulates and trade commission buildings have cellars where the Moscow Cheka—state political police—are functioning. All readers, especially Russians, were warned not to go into the soviet buildings because they might meet death there.

A BELOVED ACTOR AND A PAIR OF SHOES

ONCE upon a time an obscure actor who was playing in Chicago came to Marshall Field & Company to have a pair of shoes repaired.

Years later, at the height of his fame, he talked to our girls on the tenth floor and told the following story:

"At the time I brought in the old shoes to be fixed I saw a new pair I liked, and I asked the salesman to let me try them on. While he was fitting me I said to him, 'Young man, you are certainly giving me the wrong shoe. I don't wear a toe as long as that.'"

"The salesman said he was sure it was the size my foot needed, but I was stubborn and insisted on buying the shorter pair. The next day our company left Chicago. The shoes hurt; the farther we went the more they hurt.

"That's only to be expected," said my wife. 'Your shoes have always hurt.' And that was true. I got to thinking that the young man at Field's must have been right. If I had allowed him to have his way I'd be more comfortable.

"I'm going to write to Field's and tell them I am willing to pay for my mistake," I told my wife.

"I did write, and received a letter saying the trouble was not surprising, as the salesman was an expert whose advice could be trusted. They asked me to return the shoes. I did, and received a new pair and a letter saying that Field's was glad, under the circumstances, to make an even exchange.

"Well," the actor concluded, "I just wanted to tell you young ladies why I have been a customer of this store for many years. I have always found Field's more than fair, rather than less. I know what Chicago means when it says, 'Field's will always make it right.'"

Thus Frank Bacon, beloved and lamented star of "Lightnin'," talked one day to the girls at Marshall Field's.

Mrs. Frank Bacon, widow of the actor, has sent us the following note from California:

"I am very pleased to extend permission to use the picture of Mr. Bacon and the story about the talk he gave to the girls at Marshall Field's.

"I remember how pleased Mr. Bacon was to speak to the girls—he got such pleasure from my always evident appreciation of the store. Whenever I announced a shopping tour, he'd say: 'Oh! Marshall Field's wagon will be backing up to the door!' I know he would have been glad to have a place in the seventy-fifth birthday program."

"Dusty Answer" Is First Novel, but Reveals Genius

"Dusty Answer," by Rosamond Lehmann. (Holt.)
 A first novel which reaches America with the most startling press is "Dusty Answer." The author is said to be only twenty-one and the book to be one that might have been written by a more experienced hand.
 A little complicated that reasoning, and a little perhaps, for it more nearly tells the truth about it than anything else that has been said—except that young Keats would certainly never have written prose, and the chances are, being a lyric poet, he would not have seen the picture as a narrative. But the psychology is exactly what any one might think the psychology of the young Keats would have been, granted that he had lived the sort of life that the heroine of "Dusty Answer" lived. ### CONFESSIONS

With the robes still a memory, it is rather fun to have Charles A. Siringo tell us what book he would rather have written than any other. For Mr. Siringo was one of the greatest of the cowboys, a cowboy detective, and his book, "Ride and Spurs," is the story of his life of thrills. He wrote another book, "A Texas Cowboy," in 1886, but this is the official life of a man whom every one who has ever had anything much to do with the west knows at least by name. When I put the question to him, "What book do you always put down with a feeling 'I wish I'd written that!'" he replied:

Dear Miss Butcher:
 The book I wish I had written is William S. Hart's "Lighter of Flames," published by Thomas Y. Crowell, New York, N. Y.

I have read "Lighter of Flames" three times, and each time I have put it down with a wish that I had written it. As I have had a large sale, others must think as I do in regard to its great merit as a historical novel.

Bill Hart tells me he spent twelve years writing the volume. The time was not wasted, as when he wrote "flims" on the last page he had written a story of which any author would be proud, at least I would be proud if I could have written such a book.

The story is about the revolution which freed us from England. A meeting was called to decide the matter of sticking to the king of England; slightest doubt that the heroine and the author are one, that the novel is a masterpiece of autobiographical record. It has "A Young Girl's Diary" cast into the shade for the subtlety of its psychology. Miss Lehmann understands herself almost unaccountably. And she is enough of an inherent artist not to try to put anything into her picture that isn't herself.

There is a family of cousins who live next door to the girl with whom she has a violent emotional spree in college. Practically no one else exists in the book, and certainly no one connected with any of the characters—like mothers or sisters or friends, except as they touch the heroine. The effect is vividly heightened by that technique, which may have been conscious, but which, as you read the more, seems to be the result of a young writer—brilliantly gifted—making up her mind to tell exactly what happened and not to imagine anything.

There is a part of the book which is done much less convincingly than the rest, the part where the heroine is in college and where she loves another girl and suddenly finds her under the power of an older woman. The author tries to retain the innocence of the heroine and at the same time let the reader know what only sophistication tells, and she doesn't quite bring it off. But all the rest of the time she is wholly convincing. The tight little family group of cousins, from their childhood her only real playmates, opening slowly to admit her, and the love of first one and then another of the boy cousins, and the personalities of each of them. Miss Lehmann has done something very fine in that picture.

"Behind the Scenes with a Newspaper Man," by E. J. Stackpole. (Lippincott.)
 E. J. Stackpole has been for fifty years with the Harrisburg Telegraph. He is now its president and editor-in-chief. What has happened in Pennsylvania politics has happened practically in Mr. Stackpole's front parlor, so to speak. He knows every trick and every trap. And because Pennsylvania politics has been much in the national eye his reminiscences do not seem too local. It is an amusing book.

Youthful, impressive and gay; everything that he did lives up to his title.

knowing that Patrick Henry had great influence with the revolutionists he was placed in irons and kept in prison until after the meeting was held. He escaped from prison and made the long ride to the church house, arriving there just as the question was being put to a vote. His noble horse dropped dead in front of the church. With upraised hands Patrick Henry rushed in shouting: "For me, give me liberty or give me death!" Thus did he light the flames which turned the meeting against the king of England. Then Patrick Henry went out to his head on his lap, shed tears over the faithful beast that saved our country and made her free for all time.

Very truly yours,
 Chas. A. Siringo

"Spanish Influence on American Architecture and Decoration," by R. W. Seron. (Brant's).
 With the mushroom like prevalence of Spanish houses these days, this book about Spanish houses and their interiors is of especial interest. There are some handsome photographs of the near Spanish creations of the south and west, where low roofs, plaster and tile are especially adaptable. The author shows the new designs in American made furnishings especially created for the Spanish type home, as well as the authentic grandes styles.

PARIS STIFLES VICE TO GUARD LEGION GUESTS

Questionable Women Ordered Off Streets.

(Copyright, 1927, By The Chicago Tribune.)
PARIS, Sept. 9.—The American Legionnaires will miss a familiar feature of the boulevards when they arrive in Paris.

Prefect of Police Chiappe in his clean campaign has ordered all questionable women off the main downtown streets under penalty of fifteen days in the notorious St. Lazare prison for women. Although a few still brave the prefect's wrath and run to shelter in the nearest café terrace when a gendarme appears, the boulevards are more free of such persons than at any time since the war. Mr. Chiappe says he merely is enforcing the law against this kind of person walking the boulevards, although many say his action is to safeguard the morals of the legionnaires.

300 Arrested in Raids.
The cleanup campaign is going apace. Thousands of persons were stopped and questioned and forced to identify themselves last night during raids in a number of shady districts. More than 300 persons, mostly foreigners, were arrested.

Even the Legion itself, or rather Paris Post No. 1, has been denied the privilege of establishing a bar for wine and beer in the Legion headquarters. The Salvation Army already has opened a booth where doughnuts and coffee are dispensed, but the government today politely informed the Paris post that it could not see the way clear to granting even a temporary permit for a bar on public property.

Knights Open a "Hit."
The Knights of Columbus, who have opened elaborate quarters in Paris and expect to have forty wartime secretaries in action during the Legion visit, also are running a "hit" in the headquarters building, where they expect to give away post cards, matches, cigarettes and free soap.

"Realizing that no French hotel supplies soap with its rooms, the Knights of Columbus have decided that cakes of soap of a convenient size would be appreciated and save much time and annoyance," Commissioner Hearn says.

The new issue of postage stamps, commemorative of the Legion visit, with portraits of Washington and Lafayette will be on sale Thursday.

Mundelein Blesses Throng in Cathedral at Toronto

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 9.—St. Michael's cathedral was filled this morning when Cardinal Mundelein celebrated mass for one hour after arriving in this city. Hundreds of small children knelt outside. After the mass Cardinal Mundelein bestowed blessings on the throng. He is scheduled to leave for Chicago tonight.

FORFEITS $4,000 BOND.
John Lombardo, 45, of 908 Webster avenue, who had been at liberty on a $5,000 bond failed to appear yesterday in the Delinquent court to answer charges of contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old girl and his bond was ordered forfeited.

DAWES PRAISES WILSON, BAKER FOR WAR ACTS

Pershing Also Speaks at Legion Dinner.

New York, Sept. 9.—(Special.)—A "bon voyage" dinner to the heads of the American Legion, held tonight on the steamship Leviathan on which they will sail tomorrow morning to attend the Legion convention in Paris, was turned by Vice President Charles G. Dawes and Gen. John J. Pershing, both legionnaires and both Republicans into an extemporaneous, heart-felt tribute to Woodrow Wilson and Newton D. Baker, the Democratic commander-in-chief and the Democratic secretary of war who headed the American armies during the war.

The gathering of 500 high officials of the Legion and of other military organizations, including many army and naval officers of high rank, broke into the most pronounced applause of the night when Vice President Dawes gave his testimony that President Wilson and Secretary Baker had protected the American army from political influence during the war and had promoted for the merit system in promotions.

Mr. Dawes paid honor to the President and the secretary's "courage, conviction, and action."

Baker Never Interfered.
Gen. Pershing's declarations that Secretary Baker had given him his complete confidence during the war, that he never had interfered with his command and that the secretary had been unjustly and unfairly criticized for the early deficiencies in America's war machine.

The tributes to Wilson and Baker were entirely spontaneous and unexpected. Neither Vice President Dawes nor Gen. Pershing had included them in their prepared addresses, which they read to the gathering after making their brief impromptu remarks about their former civilian chiefs.

Apparently the tributes were inspired by an address by Mr. Baker prior to the gathering and Pershing speeches.

Ambassadors of Good Will.
Twelve speakers participated in the program, including those like Vice President Dawes who on behalf of Americans who will not attend the Legion convention wished the delegates bon voyage, those who like Gen. Pershing who on behalf of the legionnaires expressed their thanks and compared this pleasant, public sailing with the dangerous, secret departure of the American troops in 1917—and, on behalf of France, the French ambassador, M. Paul Claudel, who welcomed the legionnaires to France and told of the plans made in Paris and throughout the provinces to make the reunion of the doughboy and the polli memorable, sacred occasion.

The keynote of the "bon voyage" speeches was that the legionnaires were going abroad like Col. Lindbergh, as "ambassadors of good will," from America to France and that no one need fear that they would misbehave themselves or cause any trouble between the governments or the peoples of the two countries. On the contrary, it was declared, their visit would work for the advancement of international good will, understanding and peace.

Canada to Put 25% Duty on U. S. Fiction Magazines

ROOSEVELT ROAD IMPASSE BLAMED ON TRANSIT LINES

Companies Won't Improve Tracks in Cicero.

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Three miles of street car tracks owned by the West Towns Railway company, operated by the Chicago Surface Lines, stand as the final barrier to the widening and improvement of Roosevelt road all the way from the west Cook county line to Lake Michigan.

If either one or both of the transit companies will bring this single, dusty track to grade and pave it the cities of Chicago, Cicero, Berwyn, and Oak Park and Cook county builders are prepared to immediately sweep away the rough pavement and bottle necks which have made the city's most important thoroughfare to the west practically impassable for automobile traffic in the last decade.

Report Blames Companies.

This is the report, laying the blame for improvement delay and danger to traffic directly at the door of the transit companies, which was brought in yesterday by the west towns committee appointed to get action on Roosevelt road widening through Cicero to the city limits. Officials of each company passed the buck for the responsibility to the other company, and there the matter rested pending an appeal for relief made to the Illinois commerce commission by Cicero authorities.

"The city of Cicero has been ready for the last six years to repave its south half of Roosevelt road all the way from Cicero avenue west to 63d avenue and to widen the pavement by removing the south parkway," E. J. Carmody, city attorney, reported to the committee made up of T. B. Chisholm of the Western Electric company, Oliver J. Hayworth, city attorney for Berwyn, and J. E. Bulger of the Chicago Motor club.

"Cicero can't move in the improvement, however, until the street car tracks are brought to grade and paved."

Ready to Push Work.
"We haven't even been able to get an expression from the transit companies concerning this impasse, but we are ready to go ahead when the tracks are improved."

"The West Towns Railway company cannot improve and pave this track in Cicero," said W. J. Cummings, chairman of the board of the company, when the report was brought to him. "We know they are in bad shape and realize the importance of their being improved. We own the tracks, but lease them to the Chicago surface lines through an old contract which calls for their maintenance by that company."

Officials of the Chicago surface lines could not be reached last night, but the legal department of the company declared that the needed track improvement is a function of the West Towns company, that the tracks are owned by that company and only leased by the Blair interests. The department pointed out that the north tracks of the double track system running on Roosevelt road, which are owned by the Chicago surface lines, have been brought to grade and paved.

40,000 CHINESE PARADE TO SHOW ANGER AT JAPAN

Riots Against Nippon in Manchuria Grow.

BY JOHN POWELL.

(Copyright, 1927, By The Chicago Tribune.)
SHANGHAI, Sept. 9.—Serious rioting and anti-Japanese outbursts are spreading throughout Manchuria. More than 40,000 participated in a parade carrying anti-Japanese banners in Mukden.

According to reports from Chinese sources here, the anti-Japanese feeling is due to Japan's attempt to enforce a strong policy in Manchuria, which the Chinese interpret as similar to the famous twenty-one demands in 1915. This policy is looked upon as an attempt to convert Manchuria and inner Mongolia into a Japanese colony similar to Korea.

Hear Marshal Chang Bows.
According to a report from Harbin, Jotaro Yamamoto, newly appointed president of the Japanese-owned South Manchurian railway, said it was necessary for Japan to obtain supplies and raw materials valued at 700,000,000 yen ($350,000,000 annually) from Manchuria and Mongolia, that Japan intends to settle definitely the status of these areas in order to solve Japan's population and food problems, and hence Japan intends to preserve Manchuria and Mongolia free of the political disturbances which are prevalent in the rest of China.

Chinese Nationalist officials here believe the situation in Manchuria has reached a crisis due to Marshal Chang Tso-lin's acceptance of the Japanese demands in order to obtain financial support against the Nationalists, but the Chinese population in Manchuria refuses to comply with the demands.

Japanese Press Shows Anger.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

TOKIO, Sept. 9.—Mukden reports say Marshal Chang Tso-lin has issued strict orders that no open anti-Japanese movement is to be allowed. Agitators who urge an economic boycott against Japan are to be watched.

Premier Tanaka visited the emperor and explained the Manchurian situation. The Japanese press is assuming an angry tone relative to the Manchurian demonstrations and attacks upon the Japanese. The Japan Times, close to the foreign office, says: "Japan's policy in Manchuria must be dictated by firmness and determination not to surrender the rights justly acquired."

Mounted Policeman Catches Robber After Loop Chase

George Reat, 34 years old, 1941 Washington boulevard, was able to outdistance a crowd of loop workers who gave chase yesterday when he fled with $22 seized from a restaurant cashier, but found that he could not outrun a horse. The horse was ridden by Mounted Policeman Daniel Brennan, who captured Reat at Quincy and Wells streets. Miss Esther Huntline, cashier of the Lotus restaurant, 170 West Jackson, was the woman robbed.

WHEAT AND CORN CROPS INCREASED IN U. S. ESTIMATE

A surplus was given the grain trade yesterday in the government September crop report, which increased the yield of spring wheat to 308,000,000 bu. or 10,000,000 bu. in excess of the August returns, and 105,000,000 bu. in excess of the final figure on last year's harvest. With the recent estimate of 353,000,000 bu. winter wheat, there is a total of 663,000,000 bu. of all wheat, or 35,000,000 bu. more than in 1924.

After allowing for a carryover of 124,000,000 bu. at the beginning of the season, there is a total available in all positions in this country of 539,000,000 bu., suggesting an exportable surplus of 205,000,000 bu. after allowing for domestic bread, feed and seed requirements and for a normal carryover of 100,000,000 bu. at the end of the crop year.

Corn Estimate as Expected.

The corn and oat crop estimates were about the same as trade expectations, being in line with the private crop reports issued Sept. 1. The corn crop is estimated at 3,470,000,000 bu., or 75,000,000 bu. more than indicated in August, but a decrease of 130,000,000 bu. from final returns of last year and compares with an average of 3,787,000,000 bu. An oat crop of 1,181,000,000 bu. decreased 43,000,000 bu. for the month and showed a reduction of 30,000,000 bu. from the final returns of last year, comparing with a five year average of 1,332,000,000 bu.

A barley crop of 255,000,000 bu. is the largest in recent years, increasing 10,000,000 bu. for the month, and comparing 180,000,000 bu. last year, while the average is 135,000,000 bu.

400,000,000 bu. Potatoes.

A white potato crop of 400,000,000 bu. was 11,000,000 bu. short of the August returns, and compares with 356,000,000 bu. last year, while the five year average is 394,000,000 bu. The flax crop is larger than in 1926, and the hay crop of 101,000,000 tons dropped 1,000,000 tons from the previous returns compared with 84,000,000 tons last year, being 200,000 tons above the five year average.

The government report on grain by states will be given out tomorrow.

Common Dividend Passed by Real Silk Hosiery

As had been expected, directors of the Real Silk Hosiery Mfg. Co. passed the dividend of $1 a share on the common stock of $1 a share. The quarterly dividend of 1% on the preferred was declared. The passing of the common dividend was done at the request of W. C. Kohn, the new president in view of the fact that earnings for the third quarter of the fiscal year, ended June 30, were $125,155 before federal taxes and $125,155 after taxes had been paid since Oct. 1, 1926. After allowing for the quarterly dividend of 1% on the preferred, a bonus not in effect last year, net earnings before federal taxes amounted to $125,000 for the first nine months of the 1927 fiscal year as against $73,720 for the corresponding period a year ago.

Injunction Is Granted in Seminole Oil Curb

Tulsa, Okla., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—A temporary injunction has been issued by the Seminole county district court to C. L. Moss, a Tulsa resident, against Ray M. Collins, umpire in the Seminole area, and the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company, a Tulsa Service company subsidiary, prohibiting them from interfering with the flow of oil from the property. The action is the first court order in the Seminole oil curbing.

Standard Third Quarter Dividends Are $47,943,061

New York, Sept. 9.—(Special.)—Cash dividends paid by the Standard Oil Company in the third quarter of 1927 will total $47,943,061, or $63,730 less than in the preceding three months, when the average was $48,000,000. The record high was $55,812,413 in the first quarter of 1927.  OF
 CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND AND ST. LOUIS.

Chicago, Illinois, August 24, 1937.
A meeting of the stockholders of Rock Island and Pacific Railroad, duly called by the Board of Directors, was held at the office of La Salle Street Station, in the City of Chicago, Cook County, Illinois, at ten o'clock in the forenoon on the 31st day of August, 1937, for the purpose of considering and deciding whether the stockholders of the Company will consent to ratify the proceedings and resolutions passed by the Board of Directors and adopted for the stockholders with automatic creation of an authoritative issue of the National City Bank of New York Bonds of the Company to be series from time to time and to be the aggregate principal amount of $1,000,000 at any one time outstanding; the execution and delivery of a Trust Agreement with The National City Bank of New York as Trustee, to secure the payment of said Bonds; which Trust Agreement provide for the issuance of a series of $1,000,000 principal amount of said Series of Bonds of the Company to be designated its Secured 4½% Gold Bonds.

the Trust Indenture and to be on the pledge under said Trust as security therefor of $40,000,000 amount of the Company's First and 4% Gold Bonds due April 1, 1938, and I shall further provide on the additional series of said bonds from time to time, maturing at a bearing such rate of interest and provisions for redemption and deposit, as security for each series, collateral, as may be determined by the Board of Directors.

for its successors and assigns as follows:

That neither the First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds of the Company nor Bonds prior in lien thereto will be paid:

That on or before the maturity of First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds, April 1, 1934, the Company, its successors or assigns will make and pay to the holders of said Bonds all interest which shall be due upon all certificates then subject to the First and Refunding Mortgage and will make and pay on said new mortgage whereby tably with all obligations to be under such new mortgage:

That the total amount of bonds to be issued by such new mortgage (to- with all outstanding prior debts, including the bonds now due and to retire prior debts) shall not be three times the then outstanding stock of the Company, its suc- and assign; and
That pending the making of the new mortgage the Company, its suc- and assign will not issue any mortgage upon any of the property the same task as the first and ing Mortgages now has:

approval of the form of the nature:
pledge at the present time under indenture of $45,000,000 of the First and Refunding Mortgage
Security for the $40,000,000 Bonds issuance at the present time of $0 principal amount of said Se-
Bonds to be designated Secured
Bonds, Series A Due September 1, the sale thereof upon such terms divisible in connection with the said authorized issue of $20,000.00 amount of Secured Gold Bonds, advance and sale or other disposition to time of additional series and; the transaction of such other, may properly come before the of the Board of Directors. J. E. GORMAN, President. QUIST, Secretary.
